

First want to say that I think this was a GREAT overview of Namibia!! I enjoyed it thoroughly!

Anderson's Camp was great for viewing animals at the water hole. A black rhino came early evening and 12-15 lions came later that night. Sadly I was asleep when the lions came.

It was a worthwhile, sometimes magical experience. The highlights, by far, were the bookends-- Sossusvlei and Etosha. The dunes were as glorious as I hoped, and the wildlife in Etosha, especially the enormous herds of elephants moving in formation and the black rhino (on my must-see list), were awe-inspiring...

Jeremia was a great guide-- tireless, patient, attentive, funny and informed, with a superb eye. And the camps were lovely; the tents were good, the food was good, the scenery stunning.

Hi Ian,

The Diverse Namibia safari was great.

Our guide, Jeremia Mwapopi, was excellent. He was very personable, diplomatic, extremely knowledgeable on all topics, pertaining to the trip, and, very importantly, he was an excellent driver. We don't know how he managed to put in the many hours that he did behind the wheel, on top of his other duties.

All the lodgings were extremely comfortable. We enjoyed the camps and the food was excellent. The camp personnel everywhere were very polite, cheerful, and helpful.

The dunes were magnificent and were perhaps the hit of the trip. But everything was fascinating - the ever changing landscape, the hunt for the animals (the cats turned out to be invisible), Swakopmund, etc. We returned home extremely satisfied with the whole trip.

Thank you for a marvelous experience.
