

Our safari was really pretty fantastic. We had great photographic opportunities. We saw the big five in the first day and one half and then had many good sightings on the other days. Of the 13 half day safari drives in MalaMala we had only one drive that was fairly quiet. The rest were great. The one problem at MalaMala was that the area is covered in large part in rather thick brush making photography more challenging than say at the more open areas at Mashatu. On the other hand the foliage was starting to change and that added to the scenery.

The hides in Mashatu were spectacular for photography and just seeing some of the animals during our use on three half days. Ruth, who was our photography guide, was great. All our drives there were productive.

All the arrangements worked out flawlessly which we very much appreciated. We were glad that, with your help, we picked two good places to visit.

MalaMala: We loved it. The animals, the scenery, the lodging, the food, the service... They were amazing to us - and our ranger Dave was phenomenal. We loved the history of the place & the old school vibe. And of course, the game viewing was fantastic.

I'd go back and do any of it in a heart beat.

You gave us the trip of the lifetime. Thank you. Please let me know if there are any other ways that I can spread the word about you guys. I'm so glad that John recommended you when I started my search; I hope to be that person for many others in the future. And as I said, I'm happy to be a reference for you if ever necessary.

All my best,
