Dear Adventurer:

As Africa continues to become an increasingly popular destination, the quality and diversity of experiences have increased as well. Part of this can be attributed to the broadening of the definition of a “luxury safari.” No longer does it solely mean superior rooms, dining and amenities. Nowadays, it also includes extraordinary experiences outside your lodge, camp or hotel. At the Africa Adventure Company (AAC), we believe a “luxury safari” is experiencing the “real Africa,” not simply just seeing wildlife. Well, what does that mean exactly?

For some, this could be stepping out of your vehicle to observe wildlife in a completely different way. Several examples of this include joining a guide on a walk, boat cruise or a canoe ride. It could also mean hiking or even quad-biking to less accessible areas. For those keen for a bird eye’s view, a hot-air balloon ride. For others, it means the pursuit of the most unforgettable sunset, a relaxing and replenishing spa, or an infinity pool offering magnificent scenery and armchair wildlife views. For more still, a “luxury safari” is a journey that offers the most rewarding opportunities to learn about and assist local communities in meaningful ways.

Whatever you believe is the best way to experience the “real Africa,” our award-winning safari consultants are waiting to help. Over the years, the choices our clients face have become more confusing and overwhelming. That’s why it’s so heartwarming that past clients come back to us and book new safaris: they continue to put their faith in us to deliver them memorable journeys customized to their interests.

Don’t just take our word for it. Publications such as Travel+Leisure, Conde Nast Traveler, and National Geographic continue to recognize us as a Top Africa Travel Specialist. But we don’t rest on our laurels. Even after more than 35 years in the business, we are constantly looking to enhance our clients’ experience both in the planning stages of their journeys and during the journeys themselves. This means staying on top of our game with the strategic partnerships we have formed in the tourism and conservation industries, while also finding exciting new wildlife areas and accommodations.

Before you contact one of our safari consultants, we suggest that you first read through this 2023 SAFARI PLANNER. This is an excellent introduction to familiarize you with the countries, wildlife areas, accommodations and experiences that we offer. We’d also suggest you obtain a copy of the 9th Edition of "Africa’s Top Wildlife Countries" - the quintessential African travel guide book authored by AAC’s President: Mark Nolting.

Now, you’re sure to succeed in crafting a customized “luxury safari” to Africa with one of our passionate, knowledgeable safari consultants. In closing, we’d like to thank our past clients. Just by travelling with us, you have contributed to protecting wildlife and improving the quality of life for the people who live and work near them. AAC remains committed not only to the future of the safari travel industry, but to the community we call home as well.

Cordially,

Mark and Alison Nolting

WHY AFRICA?

A safari to Africa is like no other trip on earth. A safari is a real adventure! Going on a photographic African safari is a donation, in itself, toward conserving African wildlife and habitats, and can be the most enjoyable and rewarding environmental contribution you will ever make.

Venturing to Africa will be your introduction to the success of conservation by local communities. Safaris have traditionally been easy on the environment but conservationists have developed it even further. Tourism to these remote corners of Africa has a positive and sustainable effect on the local communities through park entrance fees, licenses, concessions and employment. Camps are using natural resources such as solar power instead of generators.

It feels good investing your vacation time in supporting camps and lodges that have made great strides in ecotourism!

The Premier Wildlife Viewing Destination

Safari-goers can choose to view large and spectacular wildlife, unique to this fascinating continent, in its natural surroundings. The finest safaris, however, are not simply those that provide the thrill of seeing wildlife, but those that explore the whole ecosystem and capture the true spirit of the African wilderness. Animal-watching excursions are best when they include parks and reserves that are not crowded and offer more of a feeling of being in the bush. To truly become an integral part of the safari, it is important to include reserves that also allow travelers to participate in activities such as walking, boating and canoeing. Smaller camps and lodges that are unfenced and that allow wildlife to walk freely about the grounds can also add to an adventurer's "in the bush" experience.

Africa boasts such a tremendous variety of attractions that everyone can find something fascinating to see. In addition to fabulous wildlife, the continent boasts one of the world's largest waterfalls (Victoria Falls), the world's largest inland delta (Okavango Delta), the world's largest intact volcanic caldera (Ngorongoro Crater) and the world's highest mountain that is not part of a range (Mt. Kilimanjaro). Africa is also home to the world's largest animal migration - the Great Serengeti Migration - a movement of over 1.5 million wildebeest and zebra.
5 Points of Value to Our Trip Planning

The Africa Adventure Company (AAC) skillfully organizes and implements excellent, value-added safaris. Our reputation is based on matching your style of travel to high-quality wildlife, featuring outstanding game viewing and guiding. Begin by discussing several destination and trip ideas with one of our safari consultants. Then decide if you prefer booking a pre-designed program, or alternatively, CUSTOMIZE YOUR OWN TRIP. During this process, we adhere to these 5 Core Values:

1. Listen First, Advise Later: As professional travel consultants we listen and hear what is important to you and can make educated suggestions.
2. Know-How: The value we add comes from our frequent visits to Africa: We've personally tested all the accommodations and activities. That way you know what's worth paying more for, and what's not.
3. Details, Details: You never have to worry about any of the logistical details, because they are already anticipated and provided for.
4. Special Relationships & Access: Thanks to the personal relationships we've nurtured with key people in the industry, our clients get preferential treatment and access to accommodations, guides and events unavailable online and from other tour operators.
5. Alert 24/7: And our utmost value is in how we come to the rescue 24/7, should anything go wrong. In short, we give discerning travelers what they cannot get from the Web-based companies, and at no extra cost.

Who will be your guides on Safari?

A vital aspect of the safari experience is the quality of your guide. Our stellar reputation has been built over the years on the value we provide, not only do we make sure to assign our clients the best guides from the lodges and ground operators we partner with, but also develop our own network of private guides.

We are very involved in supporting guides at the grass roots level, and run and support guide initiatives, recognizing wildlife naturalists who excel at the highest level. We love the cross-pollination of culture that happens when clients travel to Africa and support our company philosophy of using guides employed from local communities.

Featured here are our six favorite private guides for 2023:

HOW MUCH CAN YOU CUSTOMIZE?
“Bespoke” has become a popular word in travel. But the concept behind the word is not new. For 35 years, we have been providing our clients customized, tailor-made adventures without sacrificing elite quality. And the way we do it has remained the same: we utilize our own expertise and invaluable African contacts to ensure our clients’ expectations are met, and more often than not, exceeded!

Accommodations Classification Factors
1) Accommodation Type
- Hotels
- Lodges
- Permanent Tented Camps
- Seasonal and Mobile Tented Camps

Here are some general rules when considering Accommodation Type:
- Service & cuisine quality is generally inversely related to the # of units at an accommodation: the smaller the accommodation, the greater the personal attention
- Safari “authenticity” is greatest in Seasonal Mobile and Permanent Tented Camps. Hotels and Lodges are typically less “authentic”
- Lodges and Hotels will have more amenities (pools, spas, gyms, etc.), except at the Premier-level Permanent Tented Camps
- The higher-end Seasonal Mobile Tented Camps will have en suite bathrooms and are most likely be fan-cooled

2) Accommodation Quality
Premier:
- Overall: Extremely luxurious & spacious; Lodges and chalets are air-conditioned, while tents are air-conditioned or fan-cooled
- Service & Cuisine: Excellent & extremely personalized
- Amenities: All have pools, some units have private plunge pools; most have spas & gyms

Classic:
- Overall: Deluxe & spacious; Lodges are air-conditioned, tents are usually fan-cooled
- Service & Cuisine: Great, with a high degree of personalization as many are owner run and managed
- Amenities: Most have pools, some have spas & gyms

Vintage:
- Overall: Good & fairly spacious; no air-conditioning, but will have fans; we only offer locations in good wildlife viewing areas
- Service & Cuisine: Good, but not as specialized
- Amenities: Many have a swimming pool

Adventurer:
- Overall: Comfortable & adequately spacious; most have fans
- Service & Cuisine: Good
- Amenities: It is all about the wildlife!
Choosing Your Safari Style

The next step in planning your safari is to decide on degree of privacy, your guides and transportation.

Driving vs. Flying Safari

1) Driving Safari
   • Guests are driven and hosted by their driver/guide through all the wildlife areas
   • You will generally have the same guide throughout the trip with good knowledge of all the places you will visit
   • Option to get a private, high-quality specialist guide
   • Most often in Tanzania, Uganda, Namibia and Botswana

2) Flying Safari
   • Guests are flown to or near wildlife areas and then transferred to their lodge/camp
   • Resident guides are based at the camps/lodges you will stay at and have an extensive knowledge of the area to be visited
   • Typically independent and private trips, though group itineraries are offered with a specialist tour leader

Group vs. Private Departure Safari

1) Group Safari
   • Pre-Scheduled Destinations & Pre-Selected Accommodations
   • Optimal Group Size: 6 -12
   • Allows some Guided Safaris to be more affordable

2) Private Departure Safari
   • Create a Customized Itinerary, based on your choice of Departure Date, Destinations & Accommodations
   • Allows couples, family or a group of friends greater privacy & comfort
   • Can be either a Driving or Flying Safari, or a combination
Game Viewing, Wellness & Adventure Activities

Your primary activity while on safari will be game viewing. Typically, game viewing activities will be twice per day, each 3-5 hours long. The three main ways for game viewing are by vehicle, boat or canoe, and on foot. The best time of a day for game viewing is during the early morning and late afternoons, as wildlife is both most active and photogenic at these times! Each wildlife area and the camps/lodges within them vary in what and when activities are allowed, so make sure to check with your safari consultant!

1) Game Viewing by Vehicle
   Open Vehicles: With no sides, rear windows or a permanent roof, these vehicles provide great, unobstructed views; common in Southern Africa
   Roof Hatch or Pop Top Vehicles: Passengers stand up through the hatch for views, or look out the window; common in East Africa

2) Game Viewing by Boat
   This is an excellent way to see wildlife from a new angle and see behaviors and interactions you would not see by vehicle or on foot
   Motorboat: Choose a boat based on comfort or photography-friendliness; offered in Zimbabwe, Botswana, Zambia, Tanzania, Uganda, Ethiopia and Namibia
   Canoe: Thrilling and active “safari authentic” activity offered in Zimbabwe and Zambia
   Mokoro: glide along the placid surface of the Okavango Delta in a dugout canoe (Botswana)

3) Game Viewing on Foot
   Walking: Approaching elephant, rhino and other wildlife on foot is the ultimate thrill on safari; best in Zimbabwe and Zambia, but also offered in Botswana, South Africa, Namibia, Kenya and Tanzania
   Trekking: In Tanzania, you can go chimpanzee trekking; In Rwanda and Uganda, you can both chimpanzee and gorilla trek

4) Wellness Activities
   Consult with your safari consultant to find out where the following activities are available:
   • Organic & Hyper-Local Food
   • Beach or Island Getaway
   • Yoga and Meditation
   • Therapeutic Spa and Massages
   • Voluntourism
   • Poolside Lounging

5) Active & Thrilling Activities
   Consult with your safari consultant to find out where the following activities are available:
   • Shark Diving
   • Horseback Riding
   • Hot Air Balloon Rides
   • Tribal & Village Visits
   • Hiking Trails
   • Kayaking

TANZANIA MAP

Set between the tropical Indian Ocean and the two arms of the Rift Valley, Tanzania is one of Africa’s most scenically beautiful countries. It also has some of the most extensive protected areas including the fabled Serengeti. The landscape rises from sea level to 19,000 feet (5,984 m) at the summit of Mt. Kilimanjaro. Covering 365,000-square-miles (945,000-km²), Tanzania is about the same size as Texas and Oklahoma combined. The population numbers some 59 million, with Dodoma as the administrative capital. The famous port city of Dar es Salaam has been a key trading center for centuries. Kisiwahili is the most widely spoken language, but English is also commonly used. Currency is the Tanzanian Shilling.

From the warm tropical waters of the Indian Ocean, to the icy heights of Mount Kenya at 17,058 feet (5,199 m), this is truly "a world in one country." Covering 225,000-square-miles (582,750-km²), Kenya is about the same size as Texas or France. The population numbers some 51 million, with over 3.5 million in the capital city of Nairobi. Kiswahili and English are the official languages. Currency is the Kenyan shilling.

Country Highlights

- A safari to Uganda is like visiting your own Garden of Eden. The parks have fewer tourists, and can offer a comparable diversity of game viewing experiences.
- Bwindi Impenetrable Forest is known the world over for mountain gorilla trekking. A visit to this park will reveal a unique African adventure with one of the most fascinating primates!
- Trek into Kibale Forest National Park for the ultimate chimpanzee experience. There will be an opportunity to see black-and-white colobus monkey, red colobus, gray-cheeked mangabey and red-tailed monkey, too.
- Experience Queen Elizabeth National Park with a varied wildlife population, extraordinary boat cruise on the Kazinga Channel and an astonishing 547 bird species — one of the highest figures for any single protected area in the world. Include a visit to the Ishasha region.
- Game view by boat on the Victoria Nile view in Murchison Falls. Go upstream to see its dramatic waterfall; then go back downriver to see the elusive Shoebill and the continent’s largest concentration of crocodiles.

Mountain Gorilla Conservation

Fifty five years ago Dr. Dian Fossey set up the Karisoke Research Center high up in the Virunga volcanoes. Today 100-plus field staff work to protect the gorillas. Kwita Izina, a time-honored tradition in which Rwandan families hold a ceremony to name newborn babies, is in September each year.

#1 Choosing the Right Camera
Digital Compact Cameras - fixed zoom, are affordable and portable and take great pictures of people, landscapes and close subjects. DSLR - These cameras produce high resolution photographs and have interchangeable lenses. They require skill, more gear and are more expensive but the photograph quality is unrivalled.

#2 Lenses
Consider at least two lenses for safari, one for scenery and one for more distant subjects, e.g. a 24-70mm wide angle to mid-range zoom and a 70-300/400mm telephoto zoom lens. A great option is to have a camera body for each lens to save time and ensure you get the right shot with the right lens at short notice.

#3 The Rule of Thirds
A composition secret that helps you take well-balanced, interesting photos by visually dividing the frame up into nine equal boxes and placing your focus subject and horizons strategically within them. This helps create a sense of depth in your photograph and it highlights your subject.

#4 Master the Exposure Triangle
Learning the relationships between aperture, shutter-speed and ISO will help you feel comfortable shooting in manual mode. Adjusting one usually requires you to consider adjusting another to your desired results. Practice before you go on safari.

#5 Avoiding Camera Shake
Blurry pictures are often a result of camera shake. Hold your camera close to your body with one hand on the lens and the other on the camera itself. Invest in a tripod, monopod or bean bags for extra stability, and ask your guide to turn off the vehicle.

#6 Lens Filters
Lens filters not only protect your lenses while on safari but they can also help reduce reflections from the water and other light surfaces. They can improve the color of foliage and the sky and enable you to shoot better quality pictures at difficult times of day. Try a polarized lens for the best effects.

#7 Experiment with Shutter Speed
Adjusting shutter speed makes for compelling photographs when shooting moving objects, running water or the night sky. A slow shutter speed will capture movement and light trails and a fast shutter speed will freeze a moving object sharply in time. Always try and use a tri-pod when using slow shutter-speeds.

#8 Choosing the Right ISO
Morning and evenings usually have the best lighting and are when wildlife is usually most active. ISO 200-400 is usually best at these times but if it is too dark increase your ISO up to 1000 and as it gets lighter, decrease it again.

#9 Camera Care
Safaris can be dusty, wet and humid. Take water-proof bags and dust-cloths to protect your camera. Use a dust-blower or brush to clean your lenses every day. Ensure your camera bag has sufficient padding for bumpy drives and never leave your camera in the harsh African sun!

#10 Photographing on Safari - Book a Private Vehicle
Organize your equipment in the vehicle so it is easy to grab in a moment’s notice. Don’t use flash when photographing wildlife as this may agitate or frighten them. Respect an animal’s personal space. Bring extra batteries and SD cards. Don’t forget to have fun! Bonus Tip: Don’t view your entire safari through a viewfinder!
